CHILD 5 - William Boykin

John Bennett Boddie, Seventeenth Century Isle of Wight County, Virginia. Baltimore, MD: Genealogical Pub. Co., 2003, p. 210. States that Francis Boykin, putative son of John Boykin was the father of William Boykin who married Elizabeth Bryant and moved to Camden, SC, about 1755. Their son Francis married Catherine. He was a Lt. in the 3rd SC Troops and later a major in Middleton's regiment of infantry during the Revolutionary War. Francis died in Baldwin Co., GA, in 1821. "His son was Dr. Samuel Boykin (1786-1848) who was the father of Thomas Cooper Boykin (1836-1902) and the grandfather of James Chambers Boykin of Selma, Alabama."

However, histories of the Baptist ministers in Kershaw Co. state that the line goes from Edward Boykin the emigrant to his son William, who died in 1731 to his son William who moved to SC in 1755.

"Boykin is located in Kershaw County just a few miles south of Camden. It was named for the William Boykin family who settled the town in 1755."

"William's son, Burwell, came to own most of the land on the north and south sides of Swift Creek. In 1792, he dammed the creek to make a 400-acre millpond to power a grist and flour mill, as well as a sawmill. These mills provided jobs and necessary services to the thriving farm community."

Received grants of land from the British Crown on Town Creek, Swift Creek and the Wateree River, near Camden, in Craven Co. (later to become Kershaw Co.), SC. Relocation ABT 1755 Craven Co., South Carolina. From Southampton Co., VA.

Death: ABT 1784 in Camden, Camden District, South Carolina.
