Husband Rev. Robert Williams Wife Anne Boykin

Notes

HUSBAND - Rev. Robert Williams

NOTE: Although the quotation below states that the Rev. Robert Williams was born in Northampton County, NC, in 1717, Northampton County was formed from Bertie County in 1741, so it may be that he was born in Bertie. However, Bertie "was formed as Bertie Precinct in 1722 from the part of Chowan Precinct of Albemarle County lying west of the Chowan River," according to Wikipedia.com; therefore, I am showing this as the birthplace of the Rev. Williams.

NOTE 2: There are several men named Robert Williams whom researchers claim to be the son of George Williams, Jr., and Sarah Mann. I think it is very likely that the Rev. Robert Williams was their son, but I cannot prove it. The family of George Williams, Jr., had relationships with the Boykin family.

"An interesting case of the administration of discipline by the Baptists of the period came about as a result of differences between the Welsh Neck Church and Rev. Robert Williams,[Note 10] whose ministry was largely contemporary with that of Mr. Edwards:..."

Note 10: ...Rev. Robert Williams was born Dec. 20, 1717, at Northampton, N. C.; he came to Peedee in 1745, where he was ordained on Sept. 30, 1752, by Rev. Messrs. Phillip James and John Brown; he married Anne Boykin, by whom he had David, Celta [Celia?], Jehu, Mary, and Anne....David Rogerson Williams was his grandson;...." (page 65) From: Leah Townsend, South Carolina Baptists 1670-1805, Clearfield Company, Baltimore, Maryland, 1990 (originally the author's thesis, University of South Carolina, 1926). Reprinted by Genealogical Publishing Co., Baltimore, 1978, page 65.

Regarding his daughter "Celta" or "Celete""

A typed copy of her father's will spells her name as Celete. I think this is a misreading of Celeste; however, the chances are her name was really Celia. The source above spells it Celta, which may be a misreading of Celia. Celia was a frequent name in the Boykin family.

WIFE - Anne Boykin

NOTE: Many genealogies on the Internet show the Rev. Robert Williams as the son of George Williams, Jr., and Sarah Mann. I think this is likely to be accurate; however, many of these family trees show Francis Boykin and Mildred Williams as Anne Boykin's parents. This would make her the wife of her uncle, which is highly unlikely. I believe, though I can't prove it, that the Anne Boykin who married Robert Williams was the daughter of Edward Boykin and Sarah unknown, who were members of the same church, along with their son Henry Boykin and his wife More. (I suspect that "More" is the wrong name, but have not found any better name.)

CHILD 1 - David Williams

Darlingtoniana: A History of people, places and events in Darlington County, South Caroilna

"Now I shall speak briefly of the most prominent citizen that Society Hill has produced; certainly he touched the life of the state and nation more than any other son Society Hill - David Rogerson Williams. He was Governor of the State (SC), United States Congressman, Brigadier General in the US Army during the War of 1812. He, for several years, was newspaper editor in Charleston, and with it all, he was a remarkably progressive and successful farmer and manufacturer.

David Rogerson Williams was a grandson of Robert Williams, who was born in North Carolina in 1717 and came to Welsh Tract sometime between 1738 and 1746. His grandfather was pastor of old Welsh Neck Church from 1752 to 1759. His grandmother was Anne Boykin who died in 1768-9. His father was David Williams born 1739." p35-36.
